Help protect the planet

If you are worried about the environment but don't know how to make a difference, we can help you do your part.

Did you know that, every year, vehicle and air transportation generates one fourth of the greenhouse gas emissions in the world?

If you can't reduce your travel, you can still help out by offsetting the carbon emissions it generates with one of our pre-calculated packages, or enter the details of your travel in our calculators to determine the exact quantity of your carbon footprint.

Whether it is an important meeting or the celebration of a special day, you can make your event environmentally-friendly.

Choose our 100-person event package or tell us how long your event lasted, how many attended, and what type of hotel rooms were rented.
